

Mirav Tarkka was so helpful in publishing our new book, Permission for Self-Love. I genuinely appreciate her thorough guidance on the journey to give birth to our book. She did not miss any details of making our dream a reality, Including finding an editor all the way to marketing. I couldn't have even imagined finishing up on time due to the many different aspects surrounding book publishing, However, Mirav made it happen at a pace that perfectly suited us. She is a great communicator, a motivational diva, and a true queen in the Bestseller Publishing World.
